Have you heard about how „renew” nowadays Leonardo da Vinci’s Last supper?

I was wandering, when I read about, that 'The Last Supper' was not only da Vinci's theme. In the 14th-20th centuries many wellknown artist painted in this subject. Albrecht Durer, Tintoretto Blake, Rembrant.

Nowadays ont he internet you can find a lot of 'renew' of da Vinci's version. I found a webpage, where they collected many of them. These pictures are working perfectly, from the same gestures you associate to the original one. The figures sit or stand in the same position. So finally you always think about The Last Supper.

By the way, do you think this renewing is a good thing? Or does it ashamed to the original painting? Is it a kind of art? Or just a joke?
