Hey,

I want to share the site http://perfectlytimedphotos.co m/ with you. It shows pictures that are sometimes very funny, or weird, or hard and disgusting. And controversial, there are some things that you really don't want to see. But most of the pictures are funny. Like pictures of people that 'walk' on the water or small accidents. There are also sexism pictures, what you always have on these kind of sites.

There's one picture that I remembered for a long time. It's a picture taken in the Ukrainian airplaneshow. It's shows a plane that crashes into a bunch of people, and on the same time the pilot escapes. It happend somewhere in the 90s and it killed 83 people. So it was a big disaster. It's interesting to read the comments. Some idiots are laughing about it and make jokes about Ukrainian planes, other people are angry because of the publication of this photo.

Luckily most pictures were funny or interesting, and often I was really thinking "is this real, or just photoshopping?".

So take a look at! (If you want, at least I found it interesting)
